Dear Parishioners,

St. Andrew was one of the apostles closest to Jesus. From the Biblical evidence, Peter and his brother, Andrew, and James and his brother, John, seem to have formed an inner core among the Twelve Apostles. Apparently all four were fishermen and may have cooperated with one another in their business. All seemed to have homes on the north shore of the Sea of Galilee. Peter and Andrew came from Bethsaida, the ruins of which are now in-land due to silting in the north part of the Sea of Galilee. Later the brothers moved to the larger and more prosperous town of Capernaum. Andrew's name in Greek translates as "manly" and indeed the dragnet fishing of the type they did required that the fishermen be in top notch condition. Despite all of that, Andrew is not quoted too much in the Scriptures. But when he does speak, his speech tends to be of the same type. Andrew leads others to Jesus, and then steps back!

The Gospel reading (John 1:35-42) that we hear this weekend is just such a narrative. Andrew is apparently a disciple of John the Baptist. John, though from a priestly family (Priesthood in ancient Judaism was "inherited" and we know that Zechariah, John's father, was a priest who served occasionally in the Temple in Jerusalem). John seems to have rejected the temple liturgy in favor of his own. Usually rites of purification were conducted at the temple. John was conducting a rite of baptism (the original meaning of the word is "to bath") at the River Jordan. Andrew was part of the large crowd attracted to John.

At least on one occasion, Jesus was incognito in the crowd but John spots Him and cries out: "Behold the Lamb of God". Again this is reminiscent of temple language. Lambs were sacrificed to God in the Jerusalem temple. John recognizes that Jesus would be the ultimate lamb offered to God. The perfection of humanity, all that humanity could hope to be, will be offered to God! Two of John's disciples decide to follow "the Lamb of God", Jesus. Jesus asks them a question that resonates with us: "What are you looking for?" In answer they address Jesus with the honorific, "Rabbi" (teacher), where are you staying? Jesus replies: "Come and see!"

After remaining with Jesus for a day, they are convinced that they have found what they are looking for. They have found the Messiah. We now discover that one of the two disciples, who spent the day with Jesus, was Andrew, Peter's brother. What does Andrew do? He does what he is often pictured as doing in the Scriptures, he brings others to Jesus. Now he brings his own brother, Peter (Simon) to Jesus. Immediately Jesus perceives something in Simon and nicknames him "Cephas (in Greek, "Petros", in Latin "Petrus" and in English "Peter"), which means "rock". This "rock" despite his later backsliding and character flaws will eventually be the foundation rock of the new community of followers of Jesus.

Our faith journey is much the same as that of Andrew. What are we looking for? Do we find it in Jesus and His message of a loving God, Who calls us to share His life? Does that message resonate with us? Does it give meaning and purpose, depth and color to our lives? If so, can we keep it secret? No! Like Andrew we too must lead others to Jesus. Andrew then becomes a model for all of us. Andrew was the first evangelist and His work continues in us.

In Christ,
Monsignor John A. McGuirl

At present, there are not many active members in our consolation Ministry. Please consider joining those who are already performing this valuable ministry. Call or stop by the Rectory if you are interested in helping, or if you would like to know more about this ministry.
