Dear Parishioners,

Summer has always been for me a time to relax from the regular routine and recharge my batteries. I look forward to days on the beach or in the countryside, re-connecting with relatives and friends, visiting new places, or simply sitting on a porch swing and sipping iced tea. Yes, my sister has a porch swing. This year things look a bit different. COVID-19 and a new pastorate have greatly curtailed my summertime plans. Although the weather has been, for the most part, beautiful, I find that I cannot enjoy the great outdoors as much as I'd like to. I'm trying to get things done in a COVID-19 world and it's all moving too slowly for me. I like to get things "taken care of", but circumstances are calling me to slow down and pace myself.

There is a lesson in all this for me, and I think for all of us. I'm learning that the world does not move at my pace. Things will "get done" when they get done. I need to be patient and allow things to happen rather than always make them happen. I don't mean that it doesn't take planning and effort to get things done. I simply mean that sometimes we simply have to accept that we cannot control every aspect of time. We are simply subject to forces and circumstances beyond our control.

I think that for those of us who believe in God's providence and love for us, there is a better way of accepting that things will not always go our way or turn out as we want. After doing everything that we can to bring about a desired result, we simply have to leave things in His hands and pray, as we do in the Lord's Prayer: "Thy Will Be Done". May His will be done, when He wants, in the way He wants. To truly live that way, as someone who is completely dependent on God's will, is the way of the saint. It is a lesson that many of our canonized (and un-canonized) saints have had to learn. The challenge for all of us is to recognize that, no matter how good or competent or determined we may be, we are not in charge.

We may have a different kind of summer than what we are used to, but we can still relax knowing that, no matter what happens, it is still God's world, and He is very much in charge.

Enjoy your summer, and rest assured that "all things work for good for those who love God, who are called according to His purpose". (Romans 8:28)

Rev. Frank Schwarz

Summer Prayer

Take time to have hope, you are a child of God. Let's put ourselves into the hands of the Lord, and pray that God will bless us and our families during the wonderful months of summer. May we all help make our home a place of relaxation, joy, love, peace and safety. ... We ask this through Christ our Lord.

God Bless
Deacon Dean
